BINGEN.

A BALLAD WORTH KEEPING.

[The poem below is from the pen of that beautiful child of genius, CAROLINE ELIZABETH SARAH NORTON, the granddaughter of Sheridan. It is exceedingly touching, and when repeated by musical lips, charmingly effective. Blue eyes and black will thank us for re-producing it, if for nothing else than to put it away among remembered papers:]

A soldier of the legion, lay dying in Algiers;
There was lack of woman's nursing, there was dearth of woman's tears;
But a comrade stood beside him, while his life's blood ebb'd away,
And bent with pitying glances, to hear what he might say.
This dying soldier faltered, as he took that comrade's hand,
And he said, "I never more shall see my own, my native land;
Take a message and a token to some distant friend of mine—
For I was born at Bingen—at Bingen on the Rhine.

Tell my brothers and companions, when they meet and crowd around,
To hear my mournful story, in the pleasant vineyard ground,
That we fought the battle bravely, and when the day was done,
Full many a corpse lay ghastly pale, beneath the setting sun;
And, midst the dead and dying, were some grown old in wars—
The death-wound on their gallant breasts, the last of many scars.
And some were young—and suddenly beheld life's noon decline—
And one had come from Bingen—fair Bingen on the Rhine.

Tell my mother that her other sons shall comfort her old age,
And I was still a truant bird that thought his home a cage;
For my father was a soldier, and even as a child
My heart leaped forth to hear him tell of struggles fierce and wild,
And when he died, and left us to divide his scanty board,
I let them take what o'er they would—but kept my father's sword;
And with boyish love I hung it, where the brigh light used to shine,
On the cottage wall at Bingen—calm Bingen on the Rhine.

Tell my sisters not to weep for me, and sob with drooping head,
When the troops are marching home again, with gay and gallant tread;
But to look upon them proudly, with a calm and steadfast eye,
For her brother was a soldier, too, and not afraid to die:
And if a comrade seek her love, I ask her in my name,
To listen to him kindly, without regret or shame;
And to hang the old sword in its place (my father's sword and mine),
For the honor of old Bingen—dear Bingen on the Rhine.

There's another—not a sister—in the happy days gone by,
You'd have known her by the merriment that sparkled in her eye,
Too innocent for coquetry—too fond for idle scorning,
Oh! friend, I fear the lightest heart makes sometimes heaviest mourning;
Tell her the last night of my life (for ere the sun be risen,
My body will be out of pain, my soul be out of prison,)
I dreamed I stood with her and saw the yellow sunlight shine
On the vine-clad hills of Bingen—fair Bingen on the Rhine.

I saw the blue Rhine sweep along, I heard or seemed to hear
The German songs we used to sing in chorus sweet and clear;
And down the pleasant river—and up the pleasant hill,
That echoing chorus sounded, through the evening calm and still;
And her glad blue eyes were on me, as we passed with friendly talk,
Down many a path beloved of yore, and well-remembered walk;
And her little hand lay lightly, confidently in mine—
But we'll meet no more at Bingen—loved Bingen on the Rhine."

His voice grew faint and hoarser, his grasp was childish weak,
His eyes put on a dying look, he sighed and ceased to speak;
His comrade bent to lift him, but the spark of life had fled,
The soldier of the legion in a foreign land was dead!
And the soft moon rose up slowly, and calmly she looked down,
On the red sand of the battle-field, with bloody corpses strewn,
Yea, calmly on that dreadful scene, her pale light seemed to shine,
As it did in distant Bingen—fair Bingen on the Rhine.

IT DOESN'T MAKE IT SO.

Suppose, for instance, you suppose
That black is white—that fast is slow—
That every wind is mild that blows,
It really doesn't make it so.

Suppose, again, that you suppose
You'll meet good things where'er you go—
That every sweet comes from the rose,
It really doesn't make it so.

Suppose, once more, that you suppose
All blisses from one fountain flow—
That all the belles are blessed with beaux,
That really doesn't make it so.

Suppose, in short, that you suppose
Your bright-eyed love can't say you "No"—
That she despises all your foes,
It really doesn't make it so.

Select Miscellany.

THE DEAD ARM.

"Do you see that arm?"

The convict, wasted by a fierce disease, raised himself to a sitting position in the bed, with much labor, and raising his withered right arm with the other, clutched it as if he would ring it from its sockets as a traitorous member of his body.

"That arm did it," and he glared revengefully upon it, and shook it fiercely.

"Did what?"

"Did murder! Put me here to live a buried life for ten long years. Oh! how long they have been. I have counted them hour after hour in my cell. How long can I live at the most?"

"Three hours—perhaps four."

"Too long to live, but sufficient time in which to tell my story. If you believe it, it will be more than judge or jury have done. Would you deceive when on your death bed?"

"My marriage to the girl I had long loved, and who loved me with a love exceeding my most sanguine hopes, is the point, so far as regards the nice applicability of the past events to the present certainties, at which my narrative commences. Dating from the day of that marriage, there begins a succession of misfortunes, that insignificant at their birth, were gradually moulded together by extraneous contingencies until they culminated in an act foul and terrible, if meditated or intended, that made a branded felon.

"My wife and I never quarrelled. We loved and revered each other too much to trespass or trample upon what the other considered sacred. To be sure, in mere levity and exultation of spirits we performed acts that, to persons unacquainted with us and our circumstances, might seem seasoned with earnestness. To such misunderstandings, by a third person, may be attributed the origin of reports that we, my wife and I, lived an unhappy life—a life of turmoil—of blows. Many around us held to such an opinion, but from mere ignorance of the nature of our lives.

"But I, descending rapidly to the grave, do declare that we never, by word or deed, transcended the bounds of our great love for each other; or transgressed those laws that should preserve the person of the wife from blow or contumely. If it were possible to exist without jarring discord to turn the sweetest sympathies into bitter hatred, ours was that existence.—Yet it availed me not in the dark day that came upon my household; but rather offered opportunities by which to strengthen an apparent guiltiness.

"Jessie," I said to my wife, one evening, "do you stand on one side of the room while I take a position on the other. Give me a ball of yarn from the basket, and then whosoever is hit with the ball the greatest number of times, shall make a present to the other. A nice present, of course."

"If I lose, my present shall be a dressing gown," said Jessie, "but you know you'll have to pay for it."

"It will be just as acceptable," I answered.

"But if I lose, you have that ring with the emerald and pearls."

Then the soft ball of yarn flew quickly from hand to hand, we all the time laughing and talking with great glee. A knock at the door and an acquaintance entered, finding our faces all flushed with the excitement of the contest, and each uncertain who was the vanquished.—I declared that she won the ring, and promised to put it upon her finger the next day; which day to her alive, never came.

About two o'clock that night, I was awakened to consciousness by one of those inexplicable preternatural premonitions of near danger, which are often encountered, but generally in a skeptical spirit.

My mind was clear to reason—not having its delicate powers blunted by sleep. Scarcely were my eyes unclosed before I came cognizant of the presence of a cold, clammy nature, by its loathsome contact with my face, and by its presence upon my bosom, whereby it nearly stilled the beating of my heart. Naturally, I am no coward; but the knowledge of the presence of this burden, combined with utter darkness, creator of fierce fear, completely unnerved me, and my body shook like an aspin leaf.

The quiet condition of this body, which appertained not to myself, or my wife—its mysterious situation—and above all—the moist, chilly contact with my face, deprived me for an instant of self-possession. The clattering of a blind, or the nibbling of a mouse, seemed like a peal of thunder to my ears; the overstrained eye saw or seemed to see, ghostly shapes pendent from the chandalier or bed-post.

I dared not shout aloud nor change my position in bed for fear that my throat would be clutched by the incubus that sat like a hideous nightmare fully developed into a reality upon my chest.

I experienced such sensations as does the strong swimmer or the venturous diver, when coming in bodily contact, unforewarned, with a corpse beneath the surface of the water—when nature acts like an electric battery, and discharges volumes of fear at the slightest movement; or like one in the dark, who encounters a skeleton.

I was peculiarly situated; surrounded by an immensity of terror; expansive in as much as it draped thoughts and motions in habiliment that gave them a gigantic appearance; immersed into the sea of dread and doubt, and finally completely cowed by fear.

Now reason made it appeal to the frightened soul. The mere consciousness of bodily contact with his invisibility suggested its substantiability, but I hesitated to make the first movement, hostile or otherwise. There was a half-formed supposition in my mind, that if I stirred there would come upon me an onset by the incubus that I could not withhold; this hesitancy to action I partly overcame by the circumspect rising off my left arm—it was free. I moved my right instantly, and cotemporaneously with that movement the weight upon my face was removed to my neck. A little more stealthly investigation, still fearful of an attack by an insidious enemy, and I found that my right hand and arm as far as the elbow was temporarily paralyzed, or in that condition called "asleep;" that the hand was cold and without sensibility, and it was that object I had rested upon my face.

Of course I was much elated at the discovery, and ashamed that I had been so easily alarmed at an incident that was susceptible of so easy an explanation. In order to give my wife an account of the absurd occurrence, I turned over, my present position being a reclination upon my back. In my relief, consequent upon what I considered a correct explanation of my fright, the weight upon my chest had been forgotten; now, the change of my position recalled it very unpleasantly and inopportunely, even before I had touched my wife.

Imagine, if you can, the result of this sudden knowledge that my oppressor had not been explained away. Think how quickly all the reasons which had been carefully revolved from the mental perplexities in which I had been entangled, were effectually controverted, and how absolutely mystery and fauntic horror again swayed the sceptre.

There was, then, a being or thing in the room that did not belong there, never had been there previous to that night, and my deductions were faulty. The result was that I lost all control over my passions—that I was lashed into a fury of despair, by the fear of the presence of a supernatural being.

Clasping the object upon my breast with my left hand, with my right nerved with terror knowing no restraint, and numb to all sensation of pain by reason of its paralysis I struck heavy, treacherous blows. It had soft hair, and at this I pulled and tugged, in this paroxysm of horror, in my great agony of mind I shrieked for aid—notwithstanding my efforts encountered no resistance—and called Jessie to awaken. There was no response. The passive submission to blows of the object grasped in my left hand, was extraordinary—the silence of my wife unaccountable.

Then for the first time during the struggle did I think of Jessie's remarkable sound slumber, and connected with the burden, I could not seperate the identity of my wife from that of the object of my vengeance.

Pushing the weight aside, I leaped from the bed and lighted the gas.

My wife was dead.

It was her head—that I had so often fondled, playing with its silken tresses—kissing them dear lips—looking into those lustrous eyes—that had so confidently reposed upon my breast. Yet not more than five minutes had elapsed since my awakening.

I can not believe that I am her murderer, even, though the law so seals me with the crime.

But the arm, now so shrivelled and withered into its present form, came not so by a punishment from heaven. After my condemnation, doubting as I did my agency in her death, yet hating the instrument that had known no pity or gentleness in its blows, I held it, that arm, as a sacrifice to my dead wife, in the fire, until the flames sapped its life, blackened its beauty, and burned out of it all the semblance of human form.

These are the reasons why I hate it, and have hated it since that night. I am thankful that my stay upon earth is so diminished. When you have lived a life of solitude such as mine, with a doubt such as mine for an invisible companion, you, too, would gladly seek its conclusion.

* * * * * * *

The convict died that night. The prison warden confirming the truth of the convict's narrative, adding that the marks of blows upon the body of his wife—the absence of all cause to create sudden death—and the unfavorable testimony of many of the witnesses who had interrupted their amusement the evening previous to his wife's decease, were formidable arguments against the innocence of the convict.

If the convict's story was true, and I had no reason to believe it was false, it was certainly an instance of remarkable complicity of circumstances sufficient to embarrass both Judge and Jury. It was doubtless a case of unintential murder, committed by the convict in a state of frenzy—originated and finished under the influence of a superstitious mind, too easily excited by such a situation as that in which he had been placed.

A NEW SORT OF DIVORCE.—Not long since a native of the Fejee Islands presented himself to a missionary and humbly begged to receive the rite of baptism.

"But," objected the priest, "you are a polygamist—you have several wives."

"Keep the one that you have lived the longest with."

Eight days afterwards the converted savage returned to the priest, with his face radiant with innocent joy.

"Now, father," said he, "you can baptise me. I have only one wife now," and he pointed to a quiet, pleasant looking woman who accompanied him.

"And what has become of the other?" asked the priest.

"O, I ate her!"

THE EXILED DUKES.—According to recent advices the exiled Italian Dukes are preparing for "hard times." The Duchess Regent of Parma has reduced by half the emoluments of her representatives at the European Courts.—The Grand Duke of Tuscany and the Duke of Modena have determined to suppress all their representatives at the end of the year. From the month of December the troops of the Duke of Modena will be informed that they are at liberty to return home or to enter the Austrian regiments in Venetia. These are pretty good proofs that these princes are sufficiently convinced of the impossibility of a restoration, even though Austria should succeed in renewing the war.

BILL POSTING IN NEW YORK.—The method used in New York to post up inflammatory handbills, was the same resorted to in England at the time of the Pretender. It was done by a man who carried a little boy with dim, in a box like a magic lantern, and while he leaned against the wall, as if to rest himself, the boy drew back a slide, pasted on the paper, and shutting himself up again, the man took the proper occasion to walk off to another resting place.

INAUGURATION OF GOV. CURTIN.—Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, quite a crowd of people assembled at Harrisburg, on Tuesday last, to witness the inauguration of Col. Andrew G. Curtin, as Governor of Pennsylvania. Thirteen military companies were in attendance and made a fine appearance.—The oath of office was administered at a little past twelve o'clock, after which the Governor delivered an address which is spoken of in terms of praise by men of all parties. While the procession was marching through the streets and during the proceedings in front of the Capitol, old "Cero Gordo," in front of the Arsenal, sent forth peal after peal which made the windows rattle and the hills re-echo. The best order and feeling pervaded the entire crowd, and but little drunkenness was observed.

In the evening, a party of "Wide-Awakes," headed by the Harrisburg Band, marched to the quarters of the Governor, at the "Jones' House," for the purpose of complimenting him with a serenade. After the band had performed "Hail to the Chief," the Governor made his appearance on the balcony and was heartily cheered. According to previous arrangement, immediately after the serenade a beautiful pyrotechnic display was given in Market Square. This, with the grand Inauguration Ball, wound up the festivities of the occasion.

☞ Mr. Bigler from this State, offered in the U. S. Senate, on Monday last, a series of amendments to the Constitution of the United States, which he proposes to have submitted directly to a vote of the people, without a vote thereon by Congress. Among the amendments we find one which reads as follows:—

ARTICLE 6. That, hereafter, the President of the United States shall hold office during the term of six years, and shall not be eligible to re-election.

We are opposed to that amendment, for the reason that if a bad man happens to get into that office, four years is long enough, if not too long, to endure his rule, and if we get a good man, we can, under the present Constitution, elect him a second time.

☞ The Farmer and Gardener for January is received; and maintains unfarnished its high reputation. It is, as usual, handsomely embellished, and filled to repletion with matter of the highest interest and importance. We observe that the enterprising publishers, Messrs. A. M. The price of each of these Journals is one dollar, but the publishers offer them both, together with a prepaid copy of either the "Year Book of the Farm and Garden," or "Both sides of the Grape Question," for the trifling sum of one dollar and fifty cents. GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—This elegant Ladies' Book, for February, is again before us. This is decidedly the best periodical for the ladies in the country. Its engravings are got up in the very best style; its colored fashion plates are really beautiful. ☞ Wheeling grows uneasy at the bare idea of Virginia seceding. The Intelligencer, of that city, says:

"The effect would be to depopulate western Virginia of her best and most enterprising citizens. The population of this city, in the next decade, would retrograde one-third. Make us a foreign city to Ohio and Pennsylvania, and grass will grow in every street in this city next summer. We will sink, sink, and sink, until we become a sort of old, dull, moneyless Mexican town, that subsists by catching a copper once in awhile from a traveler, and eking out a miserable little trade with the country immediately about it. This will be our condition. And it will be that of every town and hamlet in Western Virginia.

As regards Wheeling, this would undoubtedly be true. That city derives its growth mainly from the adjacent districts of Ohio and Pennsylvania, and from the through trade between the free States of the west and the great commercial cities of the east. Let Maryland and Virginia secede, and the business of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad would be ruined, and Wheeling would mourn in sackcloth and ashes

Latest from the Secession Movement.

Presuming that our readers are more interested in the secession movement than anything else, we devote the most of our space to keeping them posted in regard to the doings of the secessionists and the General Government. In our last we published as the latest dispatch that the steamer, Star of the West, which was sent out from New York with men and supplies for Maj. Anderson, at Fort Sumter, whilst attempting to enter Charleston harbor, and thereupon put out to sea again. The following additional information has since been received by telegraph and through the daily papers. The Charleston Courier gives the following particulars of the attack upon the Steamer and the correspondence between Major Anderson and Geo. Pickens of South Carolina, in reference to it.

About half past six o'clock yesterday evening, the steamer General Church, discovered the steamer Star of the West, and signalled the fact to the occupants of the battery on Morris Island. As soon as the fact was signalled, all Morris Island was astir, and the men were at their posts before the orders were given.

They remained in anxious suspense, but ready for what they believed was sure to come—namely, a volley from Fort Sumpter.

The Star of the West rounded the point and took the ship channel inside of the bar, and proceeded straight forward until she was opposite Morris' Island, three quarters of a mile from the battery, when a ball was fired athwart the bows of the steamer. The Star of the West displayed the stars and stripes, and as soon as it was unfuried a succession of heavy shots was fired.

The vessel continued at increased speed; but one or two shots taking effect, her Captain concluded to retire. Fort Moultrie fired a few shots, but they were out of range. The damage done to the steamer was trifling, only two out of seventeen shots taking effect, but there is no idea as to the extent of the damage. Fort Sumpter made no demonstration except that he guns were run out of the embrasures bearing on Morris Island and Fort Moultrie.

About 11 o'clock a boat from Fort Sumpter, bearing Liut. Hall, with a white flag, approached the city. He had an interview with Gov. Pickens, and was afterward escorted to the boat and re-embarked for Fort Sumter.

MAJ. ANDERSON TO GOV. PICKENS.

The communication from Major Anderson is as follows:—

To his excellency the Governor of South Carolina:—

SIR—Two of your batteries fired this morning on an unarmed vessel bearing the flag of my Government. I am not notified that war has been declared by South Carolina against the United States, and I cannot but think that this hostile act was committed without your sanction or authority. Under that hope, I refrained from opening fire upon your battery. I have the honor, therefore, respectfully to ask whether the above mentioned act—one I believe without parallel in the history of our country, or any other civilized government—was committed in obedience to your instructions, and notify you that if not disclaimed, that I regard it as an act of war; and I shall not, after a reasonable time for the return of any messenger, permit any vessel to pass within range of the guns of my Fort. In order to save, as far as in my power, the shedding of blood, I beg you will have due notification made of my decision to all concerned. Hoping, however, that your answer may justify a further continuance of forbearance on my part, I am Respectfully,

ROBT. ANDERSON.

REPLY OF GOV. PICKENS.

Governor Pickens in his reply, after stating the position of South Carolina to the United States, and that any attempt to send United States troops to Charleston harbor to re-inforce the Forts would be regarded as an act of hostility, says in conclusion:

Any attempt to reinforce the troops in Fort Sumter, or to retake and resume possession of the Forts within the waters of this State, which you abandoned, spiking the guns and doing otherwise much damage, cannot be regarded by the authorities of the State as indicative of any other purpose than a coercion of the State by the armed force of the government. Special agents, therefore, have been placed off the bar to warn approaching vessels, both armed and unarmed, having troops on board to reinforce the Forts, not to enter the harbor. Special orders have been given to the commanders of the Forts not to fire at such vessels until a shot across her bow would warn them of the prohibition of the State. Under such circumstances the Star of the West, I have understood this morning, attempted to enter the harbor with troops, and having been notified that she could not enter, she was fired into.

The act is perfectly justified by me. In regard to your threat against vessels in the harbor, it is only necessary to say that you must judge of your responsibility. Your position in the harbor has been tolerated by the authorities of this State, and while the act of which you complain is in perfect consistence with the rights and duties of the State, it is not perceived how far the conduct you purpose to adopt can find a parallel in the history of any country, or reconcile it with any other purpose of your government than imposing on the State the condition of a conquered province.

F. W. PICKENS.

MAJ. ANDERSON'S REJOINDER.

The following is a second communication from Maj. Anderson:

To His Excellency, Gov. Pickens:

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication, and say that under the circumstances I have deemed it proper to refer the whole matter to my government, and intend deferring the course indicated by my note of this morning, until the arrival from Washington of the instructions I may receive. I have the honor also to express the hope that no obstructions will be placed in his way, and that you will do me the favor of giving every facility to the departure and return of the bearer, Lieut. T. Talbot, who is directed to make the journey. R. ANDERSON.

Governor Pickens granted the permission desired, and directed that every facility and courtesy should be extended to the bearer of dispatches, Lieut. Talbot, for his government, both going and returning.

DEPARTURE OF LIEUT. TALBOT—ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN TO HIM AT CHARLESTON.

Charleston, Jan. 10.—Lieut. T. Talbot left Charleston late last night with dispatches from Major Anderson to his government. He goes to Washington for instructions from the President. A party of gentlemen entertained Lieut. Talbot before he left. There is no excitement here.

The following dispatch from New York, dated Jan. 12, explains itself:—

The steamship Star of the West arrived here, during the night, on her return from the unsuccessful attempt to reinforce Fort Sumter.—The troops returned on board of her.

SECOND DISPATCH.

The Star of the West brings back the troops destined for the relief of Fort Sumter. The report from Charleston was correct in relation to two of the balls fired at her taking effect. One struck her on the bow, and the second on the starboard quarter, between the smoke-stack and the engine-beam. No person was hurt. She struck on the bar twice in coming out. At night, steamers were seen coming out of the harbor, supposed to be in pursuit. The same night she spoke the ship Emily St. Pierre, from Liverpool to Charleston, and refused admittance in consequence of the American flag being displayed. When leaving Charleston Harbor, the Star of the West received several parting shots from the battery on Morris Island, and they all fell short. The general feeling on board now is to return to Charleston, with proper means of defence, and effect a landing at all hazards.

The following items we copy from the special despatch from Washington, to the New York Tribune, of Tuesday:

GEN. SCOTT AND SENATOR TOOMBS.

The newspaper statements of a quarrel between Gen Scott and Mr. Toombs at a private table here, and a reference of it to friends afterward, are entirely unfounded. It is true that, at a dinner-party at Mr. Corcoran's, Mr. Toombs did say that he wished the Star of the West might be sunk with all on board. Gen. Scott took no notice of this brutal remark, excepting privately to the gentleman who sat next to him, and he certainly had no idea of dignifying Mr. Toombs with a personal controversy which he would doubtless desire for his own consequence, especially as nothing more could ensue from it. When he had opportunities with Jeff. Davis and John Bell, he exhibited no particular anxiety to go beyond words.

SUPPLIES FOR FORT SUMPTER.

It now seems to be understood that the Commissioners on the part of Major Anderson and Gov. Pickens, are sent here to propose, on behalf of the latter, that supplies shall be furnished to Fort Sumpter, and communication allowed with Charleston if Government will agree not to send additional troops. The exact character of the proposition will be known to-morrow. These and other negotiations have excited much comment on both sides.

MR. BRECKINRIDGE.

Mr. Breckinridge is now fully in the counsels of the conspirators, and is relied on by them as one of the effective managers of their movement. He is deluded with the idea of being President of the new imaginary Confederacy, and no longer affects any sympathy with the friends of Union.

THE SOUTHERN FORTS.

All the important Forts at the South, except a part of the works at Pensacola, Fort Sumter, Fort Monroe, Fort Washington, on the Potomac, and Fort McHenry, are now in possession of the revolutionists. This condition of things was preconcerted by Mr. Floyd.

MR. CHASE AND THE NEW CABINET.

Mr. Chase will resign his seat in the Senate immediately upon notifying Mr. Lincoln of his acceptance of the Treasury Department, in order that the Legislature may at once elect his successor. The general expectation is, that Col. Sherman will be chosen in his place, as being eminently qualified, and having acquired peculiar prominence as the candidate for Speaker of the present House. His selection would doubtless satisfy both the local interests in Ohio, and be acceptable here and to the country.

THE BROOKLYN.

There is no reason whatever to fear that any collision has occurred between the Brooklyn and the South Carolina troops. Her orders were explicit against crossing the bar, and if she had met the Star of the West, as was intended, the latter would not have attempted to enter the harbor at all.

The general tone here is much improved, and a strong belief is entertained among well-informed and sagacious public men, that the Southern revolution has expended its force, and a great reaction, from absolute necessity, must occur within the next sixty days. Capitalists have more reason for confidence now, than at any time since this rebellious movement began.

The following are the latest despatches from Washington, dated January 15th:

It is reported that private advices have been received from Baton Rouge, Louisiana, stating that the election of delegates to the convention has resulted in a majority against secession.

It is understood that the Agents of South Carolina now here, demand the unconditional surrender of Fort Sumter, with a view to avoid the shedding of blood. The Administration has not yet considered the proposition.

The speech of Mr. McClernard, of Illinois, in its geographical, commercial and national significance, is producing quite a sensation here. It is rallying the Union feeling.

A special despatch from Washington says that South Carolina has offered to evacuate all the forts and public property, in case of Major Anderson being ordered back to Fort Moultrie.

Private despatches from Little Rock say that the Arkansas Senate has rejected the bill passed by the House for a State Convention.

Fortifications in the Southern States.

Subjoined is a list of fortifications, taken from Col. Totten's report made to Congress a few years ago, giving the cost of each, and the number of guns they severally mount:

*Incomplete.

In addition to these are incomplete works at Ship Island, Mississippi River; Georgetown, S. C.; Port Royal Roads, S. C.; Types Islands, Savannah; Galveston, Brazos, Santiego and Matagorda Bay, Texas. The guns which were lately stopped at Pittsburg were designed for those at Galveston and Ship Island.

Hampton Roads is the great naval depot station and rendezvous of the Sothern coasts.

Pensacola is very strong, and the only good harbor for vessels of war, and the only naval depot on the gulf. The fortresses at Key West and Tortugas, on the Southern point of Florida are among the most powerful in the world and every vessel that crosses the gulf passes within sight of both.

☞ "Occasional," the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, closes his letter to that paper, of the 15th inst., with the following in relation to the turn affairs are taking at Washington:—

Meanwhile the Union sentiment grows apace in Washington, and volunteer companies are being formed in all the wards. The laborers around the Capitol are organizing themselves into a Union corps, and are being nightly drilled by one of their number, an experienced military man. These precautions will probably induce the Disunionists in our midst to halt in their designs, and if Maryland continues to be animated by the spirit of her late Union meeting in Baltimore nothing can prevent the peaceable inauguration of Abraham Lincoln.

Two Brothers Kill Each Other.

The Evansville, Ind., Journal of Tuesday, gives an account of an appalling tragedy which happened in that city the night before, never equalled for ferocity and unnatural hate. It appears that a fierce feud has long existed between two brothers named John P Evans and Robert M. Evans, members of an old and well known family of Evansville. Their grandfather laid out the town. They have made several attempts heretofore on each other's lives. Robert went to a ball Tuesday evening with a lady. About midnight Paul came in intoxicated. He walked up to his brother, and asked him to drink. His brother refused; whereupon Paul drew a knife, seeing which, Robert drew a six-shooter. Paul stepped back, and drew a six-shooter. Robert drew a knife and put it between his teeth, and commenced firing. Paul returned the fire, and each fired six shots, and then closed and used their knives. They were mortally wounded.

Paul started for the front door and went out; was followed and brought back and died in twenty minutes. He was shot in the upper part of the breast and cut several times in the abdomen. Robert, when Paul left the room, followed him as far as the inside door, where he fell, struck the wall and skinned his face. He was carried to a temporary couch, and lay insensible nearly three hours, when he also died. He was shot through the left lobe of the brain and in the right side beneath the ribs. They both seemed to die of inward bleeding.

During the encounter, a younger brother, Perry, shot three balls at Paul, one of which it is said hit him. Solomon Gumberts, a son of Simon Gumberts, was accidentally shot by one of the random balls, in the right thigh. His condition is serious. Such a scene as was presented when the writer reached the hall, may he never again behold. The two brothers lay there within a few feet of each other, cold and pale in death, bloody and ghastly, marred by fratricidal wounds. The floor near the scene of combat was covered with gore, and the plastering pitted with bullet dents. Gathered around were groups of men, some with tears glistening in their eyes, "although unused to the melting mood."

It was providential that no more persons were hurt. Fifteen shots were fired recklessly in a room crowded with men and women! It is rumored that a German was arrested for firing at one of the combatants during the melee. The widowed mother and the brothers of these unfortunate men are overwhelmed with grief.—May God help them! We have "supped full of horrors," and have no heart to write more.

☞ The comments on the item from the Buffalo Commercial, are by U. J. Jones, and are as true as preaching:—

PRICE OF LECTURES.—Popular lecturers occasionally get an exaggerated idea of the value of their services. Bayard Taylor lets himself out to the tune of $75; Beecher won't open his mouth short of $100 and expenses; while Gough has modestly announced to an Auburn committee his willingness to enlighten the natives for $200 an evening.—Buffalo Commercial.

Well, after all is said and done, there is something in a name. There are probably a hundred men in the United States who can lecture fully as well as Beecher who are right well satisfied to make five dollars a day. So far as Gough is concerned, we are free to acknowledge that he is a brilliant lecturer, but his abilities are overrated, and considerably overpaid when he gets two hundred dollars for two hours talk. A man having employment regularly at such rates need not envy Fremont his quartz mills, or Law or Vanderbilt their steamship lines. He could soon lay up for a rainy day.

But, as we said before, there is much in a name. "Sylvanus Cobb," through the columns of one of the New York papers, palms upon the public the veriest trash the world ever was inflicted with under the title of romance, and yet he is well paid for it. We can find twenty men in Pennsylvania who can write a better story than any Cobb ever produced, and yet the chances are that any such story sent to the N. Y. Ledger would be consigned to the stove, while the most contemptible balderdash with the name of Cobb attached would be liberally paid for.—Vive la humbug!

PIETY AND PATRIOTISM.—On Sunday evening, while the regular annual collection in aid of the funds of the missionary society of the Methodist E. Church was being taken up, at the Green-street M. E. Church, a gentleman arose in the gallery, and after speaking of the proper association of piety and patriotism, he stated that the members of the choir contributed twenty dollars for the purpose of making the gallant Major Anderson a life member of the missionary society. This announcement caused a sensation which had not subsided when the same gentleman again arose and stated that the ladies of the choir desired to contribute twenty dollars to make Mrs. Major Anderson a member of the society. He afterwards stated that the choir would give a like amount to make Lieteuant-General Winfield Scott a life member, and subsequently he said that as Mr. Buchanan had lately given evidence of a disposition to do his duty to the Constitution and the Union, they would also contribute the amount necessary to create him a life member.

The feeling thus started in the choir now extended to the body of the church. One lady began a subscription to make Governor Hicks, of Maryland, a life member, another contribution towards the amount necessary to make President Lincoln a member, and a gentleman in the congregation proposed the same compliment to Hon. Mr. Stephens, of Georgia. The secession spirit was at a dead discount among the congregation, for there was not a dissenting voice to these unusual proceedings.—Phila. Press.

HIGH FREASON.—Some of our enterprising fellow-citizens, who have been flourishing in the midst of the general commercial prostration of the past few months by selling arms and ammunition to the disaffected Southerners, may find themselves in an unpleasant predicament before the week is out. Judge Smalley of the United States District Court, this (Monday) morning, charged the United States Grand Jury on the crime of high treason, and defined that offence with great minuteness; after which he instructed the Grand Jury to inquire into the business of certain parties in this city, and to indict and present for trial all persons who have in any way assisted the South Carolinians, by supplying them with arms, ammunition, or other material of war, or by otherwise giving them aid and comfort in their armed resistance to the Government of the United States.—The Judge went even further than this, and directed the Grand Jury to present for trial all who had been aware of the giving of any treasonable assistance and had neglected to inform the proper authorities thereof. The charge made quite a sensation in the court room, as well it might.—N. Y. Express.

A NEW FRENCH VESSEL OF WAR.—A gunboat, on a new model, passed through Toulouse recently, coming from Bordeaux, and proceeded to Toulon, where she is to be prepared for sea. This boat is constructed on an entirely new model, of which the plan is said to have been given by the Emperor. It is composed of steel plates, and will be propelled by two screws, set in motion by a machine of fourteen horse power. It will carry but one piece of cannon. The boat is shaped like a tortois. The mouth of the cannon will pass just over the back of the fish, which will present an inclined plane to the enemy, over which the balls will slide. The crew will be completely sheltered under this roof, of which the force of resistance is so well calculated that the heaviest shot or shell cannot injure it.

Weakness of the Stomach and Indigestion.

Another Great Cure effected by Barhave's Holland Bitters.

The wife of Pieter De Witte, living in Holland Town, Sheboygan county, Wisconsin, suffered much from Weakness of the Stomach and Indigestion She had been under a physician's care for some time, but the disease seemed to baffle even his skill. She purchased some HOLLAND BITTERS at our office, which has given tone to her stomach; her appetite and strength are increasing, and we firmly believe that this is another great cure effected by your medicine.

We have still to record many wonderful cures effected by this remedy, but must wait another opportunity. One thing you can rely upon, what we have published are from persons much respected in our community, and are literally true. J. QUINTUS,
(Ed. Sheboygan Neutwabode, Sheboygan, Wis.)

☞ The peculiarities of the female constitution and the various to which the sex is subjected, demand an occasional recourse to stimulants. It is important, however, that these shall be of a harmless nature, and at the same time accomplish the desired end. Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters is the very article. Its effects in all cases of debility are almost magical. It restores the tone of the digestive organs, infuses fresh vitality into the whole system, and gives that cheerfulness to the temperament, which is the most valuable of feminine attractions. The proprietors feel flattered from the fact that many of the most prominent medical gentlemen in the Union have bestowed encomiums upon the Bitters, the virtues of which they have frequently tested and acknowledged. There are numerous counterfeits offered for sale, all of which are destitute of merit, and positively injurious to the system.

ROHRER'S PRACTICAL CALCULATOR,

A Book of Plain Rules and Calculations for Business Operations, by Martin M. Rohrer, Practical Surveyor and Conveyancer. New Edition, published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.

This work contains 204 pages, and upwards of 500 Rules and Examples, entirely and thoroughly practical, such as arise every day in the common pursuits of Business. It has already passed through a number of editions in rapid succession, and is pronounced by all classes of business men to be the handiest book of reference, pertaining to calculations, that has ever been published.

Every example in the book is worked out in full and stated in a plain manner, so that when a parallel case arises, those referring to the work will find no difficulty in solving it; in a word, the general arrangement of the CALCULATOR is simple, that any one who knows how to add, subtract, multiply and divide, can easily solve any ordinary example that arises in business, or arrive at the true result of any estimate required.

The chief aim of the author has been to eschew theory and philosophy in figures, aiming only at facts and simplicity, believing that business men care little about spending time in discussing the philosophy of rules, or the science of figures, deeming it sufficient for their purpose to be abl[e]at a moment, by reference, to arrive at the true result. The CALCULATOR differs in this respect from all other Arithmetics of the day and kindred works—it is a key to practical business calculations—it is, in the hands of the business man, what the key to mathematical works is in the hands of the teacher in the school room—it facilitates time and ligures correctness.

THE WORK TREATS OF THE

Measurement of Land, of Lumber, of Brick and Brick Work, of stone and stone work, of grain and grain bins, of coal and coal bins, of wood, of solids, of liquids, of circular, square or irregular vessels, of cisterns and vats, of ceiling, of plasterer's, painter's, glazier's, paver's, plumber's, paper hanger's and upholsterers' work. It treats of currency and of foreign and domestic exchange, of the decimal system, of reduction and its extended application to business, of simple and compound interest, and their entire application to business transactions, with the laws and usages governing and regulating the same, together with numerous commercial forms—of legal tender, of partial payment on notes, of banking and bank discount, of equation of payment and of partnership accounts, of assessment of taxes, of weights and measures, of square and cubic measure, of the square root and its application to business of surfaces, of excavation, and of many other important practical matters not within the scope of an advertisement to mention.

IT IS JUST THE BOOK FOR THE

Farmer, the merchant, the mechanic, the artisan, or the professional man. It has proven a valuable auxiliary to the lawyer, the justice of the peace, the conveyancer, and real estate broker, to the assessor, the banker, the clerk, to the civil engineer and the surveyor, to the carpenter and bricklayer, to the stonemason and the plasterer, to the paper hanger and upholsterer, to the paver and the tiller, &c., &c.; each and all will find it adapted to their various wants better than any book published.

☞ Mailed (cost paid) to any part of the United States, upon receipt of the money. Price of a single copy, in cloth, 00 cents, or two copies for $1,00. Bound in pocket-book form, morocco, $1,00 per copy.

LOCAL ITEMS.

INFANTICIDE—FURTHER PARTICULARS.—Further developements as to the cause of infanticide noticed by us last week, have transpired since we last went to press. It seems that the colored girl who committed the horrible act, implicated a respectable and well known citizen of this place, (whom it is not necessary to name) not only as father of the child but as accessory to the fact of the murder. This statement she made, not under oath, but in the first moment of feverish excitement, while undergoing an examination before the Justice and Coroner, thinking, perhaps, that it might in some way extenuate her own guilt, to say that another had persuaded her to the act. We learn, however, that she afterwards made a deliberate statement under oath, which entirely exculpated the person in question, and fixed the paternity of the child on a strolling painter, who is known to have stopped at the Altoona House for a short time last spring, about the time the child was begotten. She swears that she was never persuaded to the act of infanticide by any person, but that she did not know what she was saying, when she said she had been persuaded to it by the person above referred to. It is but justice to the gentleman in question to say, that the first statement of the girl implicating him, was from the first discredited by the community, and that the story seemed to bear its own refutation on its face; for she first stated that she destroyed the child, because she was a poor orphan girl, and did not know where to go or how to keep it, and immediately afterwards said that she was persuaded to it.

SECESSIONISTS BEWARE.—Capt. Smith, of the Johnstown Echo, says that he has used up a considerable quantity of ashes in cleaning his old musket, (which is minus a bayonet,) and, styling his office Ft. Anderson, in honor of that gallant officer, he warns secessionists not to come that way, as the Union must be preserved and his musket will help to preserve it. Good for you, Captain. But it is not likely that any of the secessionists will be around your way soon, therefore you will have to go to them if you and your musket would do anything towards preserving the Union: and here let us say that in case you can not find a bayonet for your musket, just call on us and you shall have one of Revolutionary memory—one which was lately disinterred in the neighborhood of an old Fort in this county, and about which divers tales of blood might be told. We desired to keep it as a relic of the "times that tried men's souls," but as we are likely soon to have times equal to those about which we read, we will deliver it willingly to one whom we know will use it well. Be sure and call for the bayonet, Captain.

ENEMIES.—Have you enemies? Go straight on and mind them not. If they block up your path, walk around them, and do your duty regardless of their spite. A man who has got no enemies is seldom good for anything—he is made out of that kind of material which is so easily worked and every one has his hand in it. A sterling character, one who speaks for himself, and speaks what he thinks, is always sure to have enemies. They are as necessary to him as fresh air; they keep him alive and active.—A celebrated character, who was surrounded with enemies used to remark: "They are sparks which, if you blow not, will go out themselves." Let this be your feeling, while endeavoring to live down the scandal of those who are bitter against you. If you stop to dispute, you do as they but desire, and open the way for more abuse. Let the poor fellow talk—there will be a reaction, if you perform your duty, and hundreds who were once alienated from you, will flock to you and acknowledge their error.

FIRE!—A fire broke out, on Tuesday morning last, in a two-story frame building, situated in East Altoona, occupied by a German named Poole. The building was entirely consumed, together with nearly all its contents. The fire originated from the pipe running through the ceiling, which was filled with shavings, and had been put out several times during the night.—We understand that Mr. P. states his loss to be near $500. The building was owned by a Mr. Glinn, residing in the neighborhood of Newry. The Good Will boys were promptly on the spot, but the house, being a light frame one, was soon enveloped in flames, and all their efforts to save it proved unavailing. We have not learned whether the building was insured.

SNOW AND SLEIGHING.—During the past week or two a considerable quantity of snow has fallen in this vicinity, and the sleighing is now most excellent. The boys are coasting down all the elevations in and around town, and cutters of all sizes and shapes are in demand. We like to see boys enjoy themselves, but we think they should exercise a little more care to prevent accidents.

WARLIKE.—The Juniata Rifles, of this place, among other resolutions passed on the 8th inst., adopted one tendering their services to the Commander-in-Chief. Judging from present appearances, there is a strong probability that their offer will not go a begging.—Standard.

CENSUS OF BLAIR COUNTY.—Through the kindness of Mr. Blair we have procured the following table from the Census department at Washington. It may, therefore, be relied on as accurate. It will be seen our county foots up a white population of 27,564,—to which add a colored population of 275, and we have an aggregate of 27,829. The colored folks are distributed as follows:—In Allegheny tp. 7, Altoona 45, Blair 5, Gaysport 14, Hollidaysburg 115, Logan 21, Martinsburg 8, N. Woodberry 1, Tyrone Bor. 34, Tyrone tp. 8, Williamsburg 17.—It will be noticed also, that on the part of the whites the number of males exceed the number of females no less than 584! And the greatest disparity is in Hollidaysburg—94!—showing that there is a fine opening here for "gals." In Altoona the difference is only 6;—and Tyrone city and Blair townships have the distinguished honor of possessing more of "Heaven's last best gift to man" than of men himself—Tyrone having a female excess of 7, and Blair tp. of 16!—Now scan the table:—

	Males.	Females.	Total.

P. S. It will be seen from the above table, which we copy from the Hollidaysburg Register, that a good portion of Altoona, (which is not included in the borough proper,) known as Loudonsville, is counted with the population of Logan township.

MARRYING IN FUN.—One evening last week, says the Erie City Dispatch, a party of young folks assembled at a house in Green Township, and in their general fun a proposition to marry was entertained by two parties who had then for the first time met. In carrying out the joke it was suggested that the ceremony be immediately performed—the preacher residing near by. They went to the house of the minister to consumate the joke, found the reverend gentleman in bed, awoke him and had the ceremony performed in the spirit of a joke, paid the fee in a joke, but the best part of the joke is that they have since learned that the marriage was legally performed and is binding upon the parties engaged therein. We presume that the parties, who are both respectable, will mend matters by taking it down and eventually assuming in earnest what was intended as jest—the true relationship of man and wife—at least such would be our advice. The gentleman is named Doane, a resident of New York State, and the lady is a Miss Wheeler, residing below Waterford. This is a warning to folks who are fond of jesting and especially in affairs of such deep moment as the ceremony of marriage.

TENDER OF SERVICES.—We have been handed the following, which explains itself:—

At a meeting of the Logan Rifle Rangers, held in their armory on Friday evening, January 11, 1861, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

Resolved, That we as a company of Riflemen offer our services to the General Government.

Resolved, That we fire thirty-three guns in honor of Major Anderson.

A. H. STEWART, Sec'y.

M., for the election of officers for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of such other business as may be brought before the meeting.

PASSAGE OF TROOPS.—The troops ordered east from Ft. Leavenworth passed through this place on Thursday night last. The force comprised 232 equipped men and 127 horses, filling 23 cars. A portion of this force has been placed in Fort McHenry and the balance have been sent to Washington City.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE AMALGAMATION OF LANGUAGES.—There is a growing tendency in this age to appropriate the most expressive words of other languages, and after a while to incorporate them into our own; thus the word Cephalic, which is from the Greek, signifying "for the head," is now becoming popularized in connection with Mr. Spalding's great Headache remedy, but it will soon be used in a more general way, and the word Cephalic will become as common as Electrotype and many others whose distinction as foreign words has been worn away by common usage until they seem native and to the manor born."

'ardly Realized.
Hi 'ad 'n 'orrible 'eadache this hafternoon, hand I stepped into the hapothecaries hand says hi to the man, "Can you hease me of an 'eadache?" "Does it hache 'ard," says 'e. "Hexceedingly," says hi, hand upon that 'e gave me a Cephalic Pill, hand 'pon my 'onor it cured me so quick that I 'ardly realized I 'ad 'ad an 'eadache.

☞ Headache is the favorite sign by which nature makes known any deviation whatever from the natural state of the brain, and viewed in this light it may be looked on as a safeguard intended to give notice of disease which might otherwise escape attention, till too late to be remedied; and its indications should never be neglected. Headaches may be classified under two names, viz: Symptomatic and Idiopathic. Symptomatic Headache is exceedingly common and is the precursor of a great variety of diseases, among which are Apoplexy, Gout, Rheumat sm and all febrile diseases. In its nervous form it is sympathetic of disease of the stomach, constituting sick headache, of hepatic disease constituting bilious headache, of worms, constipation and other disorders of the bowels, as well as renal and uterine affections. Diseases of the heart are very frequently attended with Headaches; Anæmia and plethora are also affections which frequently occasion headache. Idiopathic Headache is also very common, being unusually distinguished by the name of nervous headache, sometimes coming on suddenly in a state of apparently sound health and prostrating at once the mental and physical energies, and in other instances it comes on slowly, heralded by depression of spirits or acerbity of temper. In most instances the pain is in the front of the head, over one or both eyes, and sometimes provoking vomiting; under this class may also be named Neuralgia.
For the treatment of either class of Headache the Cephalic Pills have been found a sure and safe remedy, relieving the most acute pains in a few minutes, and by its subtle power eradicating the diseases of which Headache is the unerring index.

BRIDGET.—Missus wants you to send her a box o fCephalic Glue, no, a bottle of Prepared Pills,—but I'm thinking that's not just it naither; but perhaps ye'll be afther knowing what it is. Ye see she's nigh dead and gone with the Sick Headache, and wants some more of that same as relaived her before.
Druggist.—You must mean Spalding's Cephalic Pills.
Bridget.—Och! sure now and you've sed it, here's the quarther and give me the Pills and don't be all day about it aither.

Constipation of Costiveness.
No one of the "many ills flesh is heir to" is so prevalent, so little understood, and so much neglected as Costiveness. Often originating in carelessness, or sedentary habits; it is regarded as a slight disorder of too little consequence to excite anxiety, while in reality it is the precursor and companion of many of the most fatal and dangerous diseases, and unless early eradicated it will bring the sufferer to an untimely grave. Among the lighter evils of which costiveness is the usual attendant are Headache, Colic, Rheumatism, Foul Breath, Piles and others of like nature, while a long train of frightful diseases such as Malignant Fevers, Abcesses, Dysentary, Diarrhœa, Dyspepsia, Apoplexy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Hysteria, Hypochondriasis, Melancholy and Insanity, first indicate their presence in the system by this alarming symptom. Not unfrequently the diseases named originate in Constipation, but take on an independent existence unless the cause is eradicated in an early stage. From all these considerations it follows that the disorder should receive immediate attention whenever it occurs, and no person should neglect to get a box of Cephalic Pills on the first appearance of the complaint, as their timely use will expel the insiduous approaches of disease and destroy this dangerous foe to human life.

A Real Blessing.
Physician.—Well, Mrs. Jones, how is that headache?
Mrs. Jones.—Gone! Doctor, all gone! the pill you sent cured me in just twenty minutes, I wish you would send more so that I can have them handy.
Physician.—You can get them at any Druggist. Call for Cephalic Pills, I find they never fail, and I recommend them in all cases of Headache.
Mrs. Jones.—I shall send for a box directly, and shall tell all my suffering friends, for they are a real blessing.

TWENTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS SAVED.—Mr. Spalding has sold two millions of bottles of his celebrated Prepared Glue and it is estimated that each bottle saves at least ten dollars worth of broken furniture, thus making an aggregate of twenty millions of dollars reclaimed from total loss by this valuable invention. Having made his Glue a household word, he now proposes to do the world still greater service by curing all the aching heads with his Cephalic Pills, and if they are as good as his Glue, Headaches will soon vanish away like snow in July.

☞ Over excitement, and the mental care and anxiety incident to close attention to business or study, are among the numerous cases of Nervous Headache. The disordered state of mind and body incident to this distressing complaint is a fatal blow to all energy and ambition. Sufferers by this disorder can always obtain speedy relief from these distressing attacks by using one of the Cephalic Pills whenever the symptoms appear. It quiets the overtasked brain, and soothes the strained and jarring nerves, and relaxes the tension of the stomach which always accompanies and aggravates the disordered condition of the brain.

FACT WORTH KNOWING.—Spalding's Cephalic Pills are a certain cure for Sick Headache, Bilious Headache Nervous Headache, Costiveness and General Debility.

GREAT DISCOVERY.—Among the most important of all the great medical discoveries of this age may be considered the system of vaccination for protection from Small Pox, the Cephalic Pill for relief of Headache, and the use Quinine for the prevention of Fevers, either of which is a sure specific, whose benefits will be experienced by suffering humanity long after their discoverers are forgotten.

☞ Did you ever have the Sick Headache? Do you remember the throbbing temples, the fevered brow, the loathing and disgust at the sight of food. How totally unfit you were for pleasure, conversation or study. One of the Cephalic Pills would have relieved you from all the suffering which you then experienced. For this and other purpose you should always have a box of them on hand to use as occasion requires.

By the use of these Pills the periodic attacks of Nervous or sick Headache may be prevented, and if taken at the commencement of an attack immediate relief from pain and sickness will be obtained.
They seldom fail in removing the Nausea and Headache to which females are so subject.
They act gently upon the bowels,—removing Costiveness.
For Literary Men, Students, Delicate Females, and all persons of sedentary habits, they are valuable as a Laxative, improving the appetite, giving tone and vigor to the digestive organs, and restoring the natural elasticity and strength of the whole system.
The CEPHALIC PILLS are the result of long investigation and carefully conducted experiments, having been in use many years, during which time they have prevented and relieved a vast amount of pain and suffering from Headache, whether originating in the nervous system or from a deranged state of the stomach.
They are entirely vegetable in their composition, and may be taken at all times with pefect safety without making any change of diet, and the absence of any disagreeable taste renders it easy to administer them to children.

I beg leave to call the attention of the citizens of the United States to the above Wines and Liquors, imported by UDOLPHO WOLFE, of New York, whose name is familiar in every part of this country for the purity of his celebrated SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS. Mr. Wolfe, in his letter to me, speaking of the purity of his Wines and Liquors, says: "I will stake my reputation as a man, my standing as a merchant of thirty years' residence in the city of New York, that all the Brandy and Wines which I bottle are pure as imported, and of the best quality, and can be relied upon by every purchaser." Every bottle has the proprietor's name on the wax, and a fac simile of his signature on the certificate.—The public are respectfully invited to call and examine for themselves. Read the following from the New York Courier:
ENORMOUS BUSINESS FOR ONE NEW YORK MERCHANT.—We are happy to inform our fellow-citizens that there is one place in our city where the physician, apothecary, and country merchant, can go and purchase pure Wines and Liquors, as pure as imported, and of the best quality. We do not intend to give an elaborate description of this merchant's extensive business, although it will well repay any stranger or citizen to visit Udolpho Wolfe's extensive warehouse, Nos. 18, 20 and 22, Beaver street, and Nos. 17, 19 and 21, Marketfield street. His stock of Schnapps on hand ready for shipment could not have been less than thirty thousand cases; the Brandy, some ten thousand cases—Vintages of 1836 to 1856; and ten thousand cases of Madeira, Sherry and Port Wine, Scotch and Irish Whiskey, Jamaica and St. Croix Rum, some very old and equal to any in this country. He also had three large cellars, filled with Brandy, Wine, &c., in casks, under Custom-House key, ready for bottling. Mr. Wolfe's sales of Schnapps last year amounted to one hundred and eighty thousand dozen, and we hope in less than two years he may be equally successful with his Brandies and Wines.
His business merits the patronage of every lover of his species. Private families who wish pure Wines and Liquors for medical use should send their orders direct to Mr. Wolfe, until every Apothecary in the land make up their minds to discard the poisonous stuff from their shelves, and replace it with Wolfe's pure Wines and Liquors.
We understand that Mr. Wolfe, for the accommodation of small dealers in the country, puts up assorted cases of Wines and Liquors. Such a man, and such a merchant, should be sustained against his tens of thousands of opponents in the United States, who sell nothing but imitations, ruinous alike to human health and happiness.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW, AN EXPERIENCED NURSE AND FEMALE PHYSICIAN, presents to the attention of mothers her
SOOTHING SYRUP,
FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.
which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums reducing all inflammation will allay pain and spasmodic action, and is sure to regulate the Bowels.
Depend upon it mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to your Infants.
We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—never has it failed in a single instance, to effect a cure, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "what we do know," after ten years' experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.
This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skillful nurses in New England, and has been used with never-failing success in thousands of cases.
It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or from any other cause.—We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be sure—yes, absolutely sure—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.
Sold by Druggists throughout the world, and by G. W. Kessler and A. Roush, druggists, Altoona. Price 25 cents per bottle.

HAIR INVIGORATOR!!

AN EFFECTIVE, SAFE AND ECONOMICAL COMPOUND,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR to its original color without dyeing, and preventing the hair from turning gray.

FOR PREVENTING BALDNESS, and curing it, when there is the least particle of vitality or recuperative energy remaining.

FOR REMOVING SCURF AND DANDRUFF, and all cutaneous affections at the Scalp.

FOR BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR, imparting to it an unequalled gloss and brilliancy, making it soft and silky in its texture and causing it to curl readily.

The great celebrity and the increasing demand for this unequalled preparation, convince the proprietor that one trial is only necessary to satisfy a discerning public of its superior qualities over any other preparation at present in use. It cleanses the head and scalp from dandruff and other cutaneous diseases, causes the hair to grow luxuriently, and gives it a rich, soft, glossy flexible appearance, and also where the hair is loosening and thining, it will give strength and vigor to the roots, and restore the growth to those parts which have become bald, causing it to yield a fresh covering of hair.

There are hundreds of ladies and gentlemen in New York who have had their hair restored by the use of this Invigorator, when all other preparations had failed. L. M. has in his possession letters innumerable testifying to the above facts, from persons of the highest respectability. It will effectually prevent the hair from turning gray until the latest period of life; and in cases where the hair has already changed its color, the use of the Invigorator will with certainty restore it to its original hue, giving it a dark, glossy appearance. As a perfume for the toilet and a Hair Restorative it is particularly recommended, having an agreeable fragrance; and the great facilities it affords in dressing the hair, which, when moist with the Invigorator can be dressed in any required form so as to preserve its place, whether plain or in curls—hence the great demand for it by the ladies as a standard toilet article which none ought to be without, as the price places it within the reach of all, being per bottle, to be had at all respectable druggists and perfumers.

L. MILLER would call the attention of Parents and Guardians to the use of the Invigorator, in cases where the childrens' Hair inclines to be weak. The use of it lays the foundation for a good head of hair, as it removes any impurities that may have become connected with the scalp, the removal of which is necessary both for the health of the child, and the future appearance of its Hair.

CAUTION.—None genuine without the fac simile LOUIS MILLER being on the outer wrapper; also, L. MILLER'S HAIR INVIGORATOR, N. Y. blown in the glass.

MOFFAT'S

LIFE PILLS and PHŒNIX BITTERS.

THESE MEDICINE HAVES NOW been before the public for a period of thirty years, and during that time have maintained a high character in almost every part of the globe, for their extraordinary and immediate power of restoring perfect health to persons suffering under nearly every kind of disease to which the human frame is liable.

The following are among the distressing variety of human diseases in which the

are well known to be infallible.

DYSPEPSIA, by thoroughly cleansing the first and second stomachs, and creating a flow of pure, healthy bile, instead of the stale and acrid kind; FLATULENCY, Loss or Appetite, Heartburn, Headache, Restlessness, Ill Temper, Anxiety, Langour, and Melancholy, which are the general symptoms of Dyspepsia, will vanish, as a natural consequence of its cure.

COSTIVENESS, by cleansing the whole length of the intestines with a solvent process, and without violence; all violent purges leave the bowels costive within two days.

FEVERS of all kinds, by restoring the blood to a regular circulation, through the process of respiration in such cases, and the thorough solution of all intestinal obstruction in others.

The Life Medicines have been known to cure RHEUMATISM permanently in three weeks, and GOUT in half that time, by removing local inflammation from the muscles and ligaments of the joints.

DROPSIES of all kinds, by freeing and strengthening the kidneys and bladder; they operate most delightfully on these important organs, and hence have ever been found a certain remedy for the worst cases of GRAVEL.

Also WORMS, by dislodging from the turnings of the bowels the slimy matter to which these creatures adhere.

SCURVY, ULCERS, and INVETERATE SORES, by the perfect purity which these LIFE MEDICINES give to the blood, and all the humors.

SCORBUTIC ERUPTIONS and BAD COMPLEXIONS, by their alterative effect upon the fluids that feed the skin, and the morbid state of which occasions all eruptive complaints, sallow, cloudy, and other disagreeable complexions.

The use of these Pills for a very short time will effect an entire cure of SALT RHEUM, and a striking improvement in the clearness of the skin. COMMON COLDS and INFLUENZA will always be cured by one dose, or by two in the worst cases.

PILES.—The original proprietor of these medicines was cured of Piles, of 35 years standing, by the use of the Life Medicines alone.

FEVER & AGUE.—For this scourge of the Western country, these medicines will be found a safe, speedy and certain remedy. Other medicines leave the system subject to a return of the disease—a cure by these medicines is permanent—try them, be satisfied, and be cured.

BILLIOUS FEVERS and LIVER COMPLAINTS.—General debility, loss of appetite and diseases of females—the medicines have been used with the most beneficial results in cases of this description.—Kings Evil and Scrofula, in its worst forms, yields to the mild yet powerful action of these remarkable Medicines. Night Sweats, Nervous Debility, Nervous Complaints of all kinds. Palpitation of the Heart, Painters' Colic, are speedily cured.

MERCURIAL DISEASES.—Persons whose constitutions have become impaired by the injudicious use of Mercury, will find these medicines a perfect cure, as they never fail to eradicate from the system all the effects of Mercury, infinitely sooner than the most powerful preparation of Sarsaparilla.

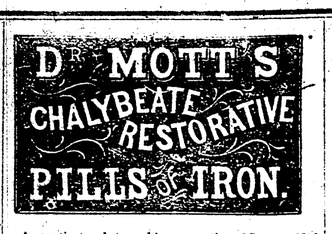
HAIR, HAT, TOOTH, SHAVING, Paint, Sash and Varnish Brushes at KESSLER'S.



An aperient and stomachic preparation of Iron purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case.

In Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Incipient Consumption, Scrofulous Tuberculosis, Salt Rheum, Mismenstruation, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible.—Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world as if just returned from a protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested by Female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and the complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise, for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Afflictions of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic without being exciting nor overheating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia, Immmerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked Diarrhœa, even when advanced to Dysentery, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate Incipient Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In Scrofulous Tuberculosis, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly afflicting them.

In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating the pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In Intermittent Fevers it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has been discovered in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of the price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to Salt River Passengers, Ho!

AS THE SUBSCRIBER WILL BE under the necessity of leaving early in November for the head waters of Salt River, in the ship UNION, which will positively sail about that time; and knowing that many of my friends will go along and will want an outfit, I take this opportunity of informing them as well as all my old friends and customers, that I have just returned from the East, where I purchased a large stock of Goods, which I am now opening at my store in North Ward, to which I invite inspection. It is the

as well as the CHEAPEST lot of Goods brought to the town this fall. The reason why I say the CHEAPEST is obvious to every reflecting mind, because as the season advances (the merchants in the east say) prices decline, therefore I have an advantage of from 20 to 25 per cent. over those who purchased early in the season, and I can and will sell cheaper than any other house in the place. HOSTETTER'S

STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors and manufacturers of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a reputation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of bare assertion or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for the last year amounted to over a half-million bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the preparation, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom.

This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trumpeting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and ague and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach derangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. Here, then, is a necessity for a stimulant to recuperate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other invigorators that receive the endorsement of physicians, because it is agreeable to the taste as well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhœa, dysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

 Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, South America, and Germany.

JACOB SNYDER, TAILOR,

The Hero of One Hundred Fits per Month!

I would respectfully set forth my claim to public attention, as a Fashionable Tailor, as follows:

Because I keep an excellent assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings and Trimmings, which, when examined, always please.

Because my work is made up in a manner that takes down the country and gives all my customers a city appearance.

Because I am not inferior as a Cutter to the best to be found anywhere.

Because long experience in my business gives me entire control over it, and I am not dependant upon any one to fit me out of the suds.

Because I am still on the sunny side of forty, and therefore my taste as a Cutter and workman unimpaired.

Call on me, in the corner room of the "Grant House." Give me a trial and you will go away pleased.

Altoona, May 26-3m JACOB SNYDER.
